

www.soundspositive.com

How to open your PDF file

Most computers already have the software necessary to open a PDF automatically. If however, you find you're unable to open it, you will need to install some software which will allow you to do so.

You can download the relevant programme, free, at <http://www.adobe.com/products/reader/>

